

WHEN A STORE

Like Wanamaker's (the largest retail store in the world) decides to put in LADIES' HOME JOURNAL PATTERNS it argues pretty strong for the merits of these Patterns. Not only more up-to-date, but much easier to use than any other kinds.

The mistaken identity of a captivated widow furnishes the theme for a consistent and well planned plot in the reigning farcial success "The Real Widow Brown". It's funny very funny, and an immense winner. Pretty girls, clever comedians, gorgeous costumes, enchanting music, and songs and pleasing dances supply the entertaining elements in this attraction which comes to the opera house Wednesday evening, May 30.

"The funniest thing that ever happened", is the universal verdict of those who witness the newest and latest musical comedy success, "The Real Widow Brown", which is booked for Wednesday evening at the opera house. The story is well told and splendidly acted by a carefully selected company of fun-makers, while the situations and act-endings are both novel and exorbitantly funny. The piece is interspersed with new and bright specialties.

Dinner will be served to R. B. Crandall Post and invited guests by the Ladies of the G. A. R. on Wednesday.
